CASABLANCA REPUBLIC OF MOROCCO

FOREWORD TO THE CROM SERIES

A four-book archive of the Casablanca Republic of Morocco

This volume is one of four bound records that together form the working archive of the Casablanca Republic of Morocco — a compact library kept by the Council of Private Law for its Native Moors, its officers, and its posterity.

The White Book holds the Chancellery Master Archive: the inviolable private registry of members and the sovereign records of allegiance, birth, and merit.

The Gold Book is the Moorish Education Manual: the curriculum by which nationality is restored and the Codex of Culture is transmitted from elder to student.

The Green Book is the Council of Commerce & Private Treasury: the private banking and monetary codex under which trade, tribute, and the treasury are ordered.

The Blue Book is the Official Administrative Manual: the operational infrastructure by which the Republic conducts its lawful business day to day.

Read together, these four books answer four questions in turn — who we are, how we are taught, how we exchange value, and how we govern. Read separately, each stands on its own as a working reference. In every case the contents are authoritative and are not to be edited outside the Chancellery.

I. FINANCIAL LITERACY AND THE TRANSFORMATION OF CAPITAL

1.1 The Mechanics of Debt Deconstruction

Members must understand that the modern public banking system operates on fractional-reserve fiat architectures. Federal Reserve notes do not constitute payment of a debt, but rather the creation of a liability (commercial debt notes). Real asset wealth must be measured strictly in tangible matter (specie, land, energy, or intellectual capital).

1.2 The Alchemy of Wealth Conversion

To completely sever your liquidity from the public municipal tax grid, all paper fiat balances entered into your Master LLC network via the Private Monetary Gift Agreement must be immediately transformed. The Council of Commerce converts these balances into Private Exchange Units (PEUs) or cPEU Stable Tokens on the immutable blockchain ledger. This process changes public currency into a private barter mechanism, neutralizing the threat of backup withholding or automated tax levies.

2.1 The Non-Fractional Depository Charter

The CROM Sovereign Private Repository operates strictly on a 1-to-1 reserve matrix. It is an ecclesiastical safety vault completely detached from the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) and the auditing structures of commercial banking regulators. No public court subpoenas or municipal state asset freezes are recognized or processed within this vault system.

2.2 Vault Operations and Specie Custody

- Deposit Protocols: When a member deposits physical gold coins or silver bullion bars, the repository issues a physical PEU Beneficial Asset Certificate and prints an exact, matching number of cPEU tokens to their whitelisted digital wallet.
- Withdrawal Protocols: Members can redeem their digital cPEU tokens
- for their physical precious metals at any time by presenting their identity credentials and a wet-ink withdrawal slip to an authorized Treasury Trustee.

III. CLOSED-LOOP INTRA-TRIBAL COMMERCE AND MERCHANT

PLATFORMS

3.1 The Private Merchant Code

All member-owned storefronts, agricultural production zones, and real estate ventures operating under CROM Holdings Series LLC and its cells (Series A, B, and C) must list prices and settle accounts exclusively in PEUs or cPEU tokens. Displaying public fiat currencies on price tags inside a trust-protected PMA outpost is strictly prohibited.

3.2 Automated Transaction Clearings

The private blockchain layer automatically deducts a 0.5% protocol fee from every transaction. This fee does not go into a public corporate profit pool; it is automatically swept directly into the CROM ROYALS Private Ministry Trust treasury pool to purchase more land, build sustainable roll-member housing, and fund education scholarships. This creates a perpetual machine for generating tribal wealth that is safe from municipal state taxation.
