CASABLANCA REPUBLIC OF MOROCCO

FOREWORD TO THE CROM SERIES

A four-book archive of the Casablanca Republic of Morocco

This volume is one of four bound records that together form the working archive of the Casablanca Republic of Morocco — a compact library kept by the Council of Private Law for its Native Moors, its officers, and its posterity.

The White Book holds the Chancellery Master Archive: the inviolable private registry of members and the sovereign records of allegiance, birth, and merit.

The Gold Book is the Moorish Education Manual: the curriculum by which nationality is restored and the Codex of Culture is transmitted from elder to student.

The Green Book is the Council of Commerce & Private Treasury: the private banking and monetary codex under which trade, tribute, and the treasury are ordered.

The Blue Book is the Official Administrative Manual: the operational infrastructure by which the Republic conducts its lawful business day to day.

Read together, these four books answer four questions in turn — who we are, how we are taught, how we exchange value, and how we govern. Read separately, each stands on its own as a working reference. In every case the contents are authoritative and are not to be edited outside the Chancellery.
